

The Righteous Souls Are In The Hand of God

All Saints, Offertory Antiphon Hymn

1. The right - eous souls are in the hand of God,
2. It may ap - pear, in - deed, that they have died.
3. God proved their worth, as gold in fire is tried;
4. They shall judge na - tions, rule o'er ev - ery land,

And no mal - i - cious tor - ment touch - es them.
Yet hope en - dures for ev - er - last - ing life;
As sac - ri - fice, he took them to him - self.
The Lord shall be their King for - ev - er - more;

To the un - wise, they seem - ing - ly have died:
Chast-ised a while, they shall be great - ly blessed,
In vis - i - ta - tion times they shall be bright,
Who - ev - er trusts in him shall un - der - stand,

But they live on, and dwell in peace with him.
For God has found them worth - y of him - self.
And dart a - bout as sparks fly through the chaff.
They shall re - ceive the love he has in store.

Al - le - lu - ia, O sing Al - le - lu - ia,

The right - eous souls are in the hand of God.

*Text: Offertory Antiphon, All Saints Nov 1st, Gregorian Missal, Iustorum animae, Wisdom 3:1-9
Adapted Luke Massery © 2021. Tune: FINLANDIA, Jean Sibelius (1865-1957)*